Seniors show that EAGLE SPIRIT!

Tina Stevens shows her spirit in a big way!

From the frantic decorating of the halls for homecoming to the slow procession of graduation, a sensation of pride and spirit was always present.

With the screaming and cheering at pep rallies, and the sensational feeling of winning at most of the sports events, everyone combined to make this the best year ever for our high school; the one with PRIDE, W.H.S.!

However, not all activities were connected with school. Our night life possessed a different atmosphere. From going out with a date to goofing around with best friends; everyone was active. Many of us became involved in helping the community. We were involved with the chemical people, a drug awareness project, and with the blood drive in January. Also many of us had jobs, ranging from working at the new McDonald's Drive In to selling clothes in the downtown merchant's shops.

An order of high esteem for the school, faculty, community, and students shined through everything we did! We each tried to make this year, THE BEST YEAR EVER!!

Cheerleaders boost spirit for homecoming.

Edwardene Garrison

After being an important member of the faculty at W.H.S., Mrs. Garrison says "good-bye" for now, but not forever. Since a big part of her job is counseling the students she will still be around for anyone with a problem.

Just a part of what she does with each class is as follows: starting at the end of the eighth grade, a four-year plan is made for each student under her direction. After classes are set up, students are placed in the correct classes. This can only be done after individual schedules have been made. After the school year begins, class changes begin. The four-year plan is good for all the high school years.

During the freshman and junior years, tests are administered under the direction of Mrs. Garrison. She supervises the ASVAB and PSAT. The seniors take the ACT after applying through the counselor's office. Mrs. Garrison places special emphases on seniors trying to obtain scholarships for all who apply and just making sure everyone graduates!

There are many other things that have gotten attention throughout the years. For example, Mrs. Garrison is a big part of numerous committees, works on the honor roll, does grade point averages, and has helped start different classes for students such as the gifted program. This year she supervised the North Central evaluation of the high school.

Through these talents, and many unmentioned ones, Mrs. Garrison has proved to be the loyal and dedicated counselor that only a school with pride and honor, such as W.H.S., could ever dream of having.

Oklahoma Isn't Just for Cowboys

Oklahoma's two favorite cheerleaders are M. Stubbs and C. McDown!

Among all of the students at WHS, there are many other personalities besides cowboys. As a person walks down the halls on an average day, fashions seen would be anything from punk rock to the average-teenage look. During the last few years, styles (hair, clothes, speech) have changed a great deal. Teenagers today seem to be more outgoing and wear what they want to feel comfortable. Not only has the style of clothes changed; but activities have changed, too. Soccer has become very popular among our students. Some students take private ballet, voice, and piano lessons.

With these cultural additions, it is easy to see that WHS isn't just for Cowboys!!

Enjoying a day on L. Brook's own yacht.

A little to eat and drink and off they are; soccer players in uniforms ready to play a "tuff" game!

Oklahoma's teenagers prefer the punk look: S. Berrong, K. Wright, T. Coombes, and L. Wolfgang model the latest fashions.

Holidays, They Mean

Kristy Yokum, Linda Brooks, and Michelle Hoffman take a moment for a picture before going trick-or-treating.

Trick-or-Treating is Weena Smith's favorite Halloween activity.

Terri Moore helps out at the Harvest Carnival at the First Baptist Church on Halloween Night.

Mike Koch and Audrey Leonard are waiting for seconds.

Weena Smith and Diana Hertzler pick out a pumpkin to make a pie for Thanksgiving dinner.

Mr. Siefried jumps at the chance to tell the students what Veteran's Day is all about.

Something Special to WHS

Wendy Husby, Shelia Lohmann, and Amy Pollard help make it seem like Christmas at WHS.

Jana Penner, Melanie Morrison, and Brenda Zook know that Christmas is a time for giving.

Holidays are something we all look forward to; a time to get out of school, see many relatives, and relax with good friends. Our holidays have special meanings. Halloween is when the ghosts and witches come out and kids go trick or treating. Veteran's Day is a time to thank all those men and women who fought for our country. Thanksgiving Day is a time together with family and friends and to be thankful for all that we have. It's a day that no diet survives! Christmas is for giving, caring, sharing, and a two-week vacation. Families get together and exchange presents. New Year's Day marks the end of some trials and defeats and the dawning of new hope. Millions of people pick this day to turn over a new leaf. On Valentine's Day, Cupid is busy shooting his love arrows. Many can be seen going from store to store to find just the perfect gift for that very special person. Holidays are something that every person looks forward to for one reason or another.

Christmas lights are a big part of the modern Christmas.

The styles in clothing of 1983-84 were, to say the least, in wide variety, as you can see above. We decided to go to Passtimes (the place where just about anything can happen and usually does), to see what we could see.

Well, let's start from the top. Mini-skirted Tami Kirby is perched atop a video game, cradling a stuffed version of E.T. Below her, we see James Keenum wearing his shades and displaying a Journey concert T-shirt. Next to James is Monte Mouse dressed in his typical manner, a very "casual" western cowboy. Now here's an interesting character! It appears that Mike Husby has really gone in for the "Michael Jackson" look, imitating his idol. Blending into the scenery in the middle is a camouflaged Bruce Spitzer, weapons at the ready. There is Steve Griffin, wearing his basketball uniform, ready to show his Eagle pride on the court. Next in this unusual group is probably the most unique, original and . . . well, unusual individual present: punk-rocker Greg Lankford looks at the world through some pretty interesting eyewear as he jams to the sounds of his portable stereo. Sitting next to Greg is preppy Dean Rader, who must take his schoolwork really seriously by the looks of that stack of books he's carrying! As we turn our attention to the floor, we see Brent Wood wearing leather pants. Sitting next to him is Rae Kern looking very casual, crutches and all. Then we see Christy Mazie wearing a concert T-shirt and enjoying a Coke and Tonya Scruggs, who is dressed in her everyday semi-preppy style. Finally, we come to Army recruit, Mike Rosamond who looks content stretched out on the floor, gun in hand. Last, but not least, is everybody's favorite, stuffed friend, Garfield.

As you can see by the people found at a "typical night at Passtimes," the styles and trends at WHS have much variety and include almost anything possible!

Trends of 1983-84 . . . Eagle Style!

Kristen Casebeer, Janet Dill, and Karen Walker clown around at McDonald's.

What happened in 1983-84? Well, it will be remembered as the year that the world turned its attention to the U.S.A. for the Summer Olympics in Los Angeles and, also, as the year that McDonald's came to Weatherford!

What else is new? Well, let's see . . ., Oh yes — VIDEOS!!! Night Tracks, MTV, Rock Street, and The Music Channel were some of the stations that offered music videos. Now, not only could they listen to their favorite sounds, they could watch the groups' interpretation of what the songs are all about.

There were many other special things: a White Christmas, dances, concerts, dragging main, going to Passtimes or the movies, or just being with that special friend.

Yes, 1983-84 had a lot of styles and trends and lots of things were going on; but the one thing that everyone was involved with was just being a part of WHS!!!

In 1984, the United States became the center of international athletic competition during the olympic games, and Weatherford became an "All-American" town with the addition of the "golden arches" of McDonaldland.

RIGHT: World-famous snowball fighter, Carrie Schultz, takes advantage of the unusual white Christmas.

The biggest trend in Music and Video was, of course, Michael Jackson!

Homecoming Spirit Flies

An underworld crime figure (Robby Wlaker) appears at WHS.

Darla and Alfala (Loree Moore and Mark Bell) are really excited about homecoming.

The spirit of WHS made Ernest (Scott Steinly) come to find out what it was all about!!

Homecoming lets the true character of the students come out.

Juniors work very hard to win the hall decorating contest.

Homecoming 1983 was the best that has ever hit Weatherford! Spirit flew high all week and everyone seemed to be involved. Monday, Punk day, the students showed up in the latest fashion; everything from chains to blue hair was seen. Tuesday, Monster day, was something that hadn't been done before. Many of our students and teachers showed up at school as their favorite monster. Wednesday, Movie Star day, people such as Alfalfa and Darla, Dorothy, Scarlet O'Hara, and Clark Kent showed up at school. The movie stars were followed by the gangsters on Thursday. By Friday, the spirit had spread from the high school to the third grade. At the pep assembly, the third graders gave the football players and the cheerleaders good-luck charms for the game that night. Mrs. Millner, Mrs. Lumpkin, Ms. Strong, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Rickner, and Mrs. Lohmann, were cheerleaders at the special session assembly. A special queen crowning took place at the assembly; Mr. "Nellie" Nuttall won. His crown was a pie in the face!! Spirit showed at the game by the score of 40 to 19! The real queen crowning was done at half time and Michell Hoffman won. The student council did a very good job on the decorations for the dance and everyone seemed to have a good time. The dance was the perfect end to a perfect week!

Mickey Stubbs and Chris McDown are the two newest cheerleaders.

Unescapable Mondays

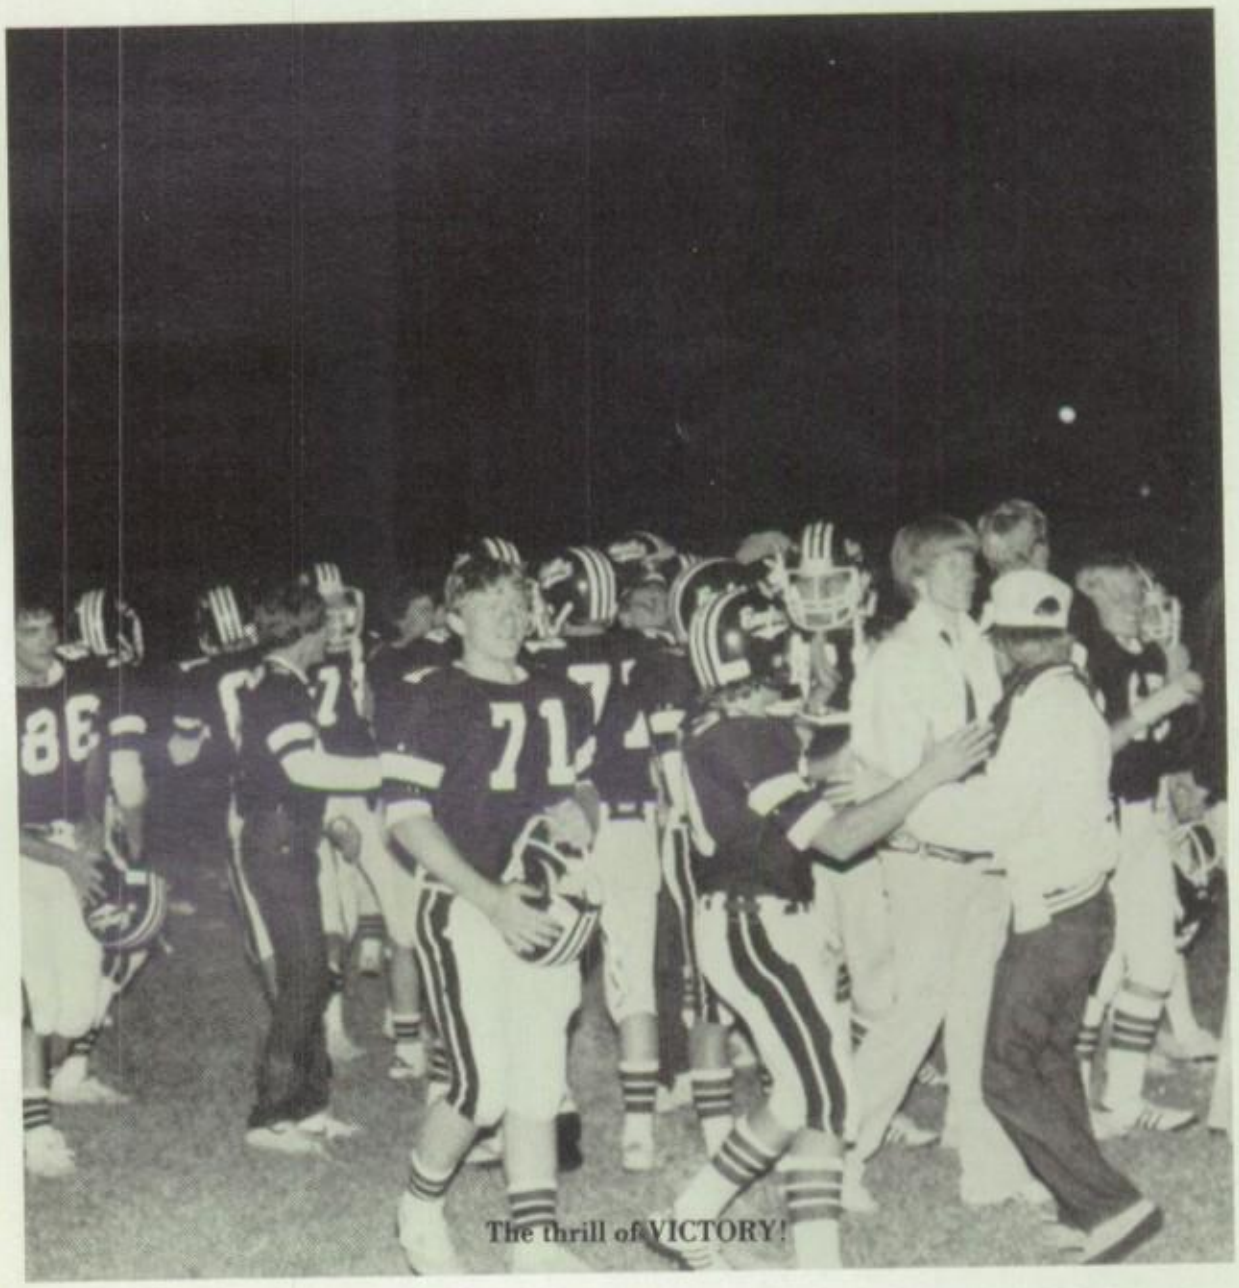
Do you remember coming to school with your shoes on the wrong feet, your shirt on inside out, and your hair uncombed? Nine times out of ten it was a Monday! Trying to recover from the weekend was a familar sight; and don't forget that the car wouldn't start, and you didn't study for the big examination in English. Yes, this is a typical Monday (unescapable). But just think, only four more days until FRIDAY!

Above: Stephen Raleigh finds it very hard to wake up for Monday morning! Left: Linda Brooks enjoys work on Monday.

Reliable Friday

Kathryn Cook is making her plans for Friday night.

Friday's here and the weekend is coming! Do you feel more comfortable in school on a Friday? Most people do! Along with game nights, WHS has pep assemblies and other activities to celebrate. But Friday isn't only a fun day at school; field trips, wrestling matches, and tests are taken in many classes. But it is soon over, enjoy the week-end, and be ready for a bright Monday.



The thrill of VICTORY!

J. Holly, T. Duerksen and S. Lumpkin are amused at how S. Compton poses for the camera.

Waiting for the bus is a familiar sight on a Friday afternoon.

Never Quite Like This

Spirit, smiles, memories, fun, streamers, cheering, W.H.S. has never experienced a year quite like this! All faces were aglow with fresh newness this year that shined throughout the year in all activities. Red was for all the life and determination that we put into everything. Red and white together reminds us of the loyalty that the students of 83-84 put forth to have a year "NEVER QUITE LIKE THIS."

French Club!

Students show off their projects.

French club worked hard to prepare for contest and other activities. Learning French isn't an easy thing to do. It takes many hours of hard work and practice. There were 26 students enrolled in French classes this year. Each one of them has his or her own pace of learning French. Students can say this year's French Club was a real success!

These students must have made an A.

The students "inside the computer" are a group of young people who helped themselves and each other to learn more about the use of computers, and about the possibilities of this growing career of the future.

DIMENSIONS — Back: A. Kelley, P. Huerta, R. Walls, B. Williams, B. Shelton, L. Reimer, M. Henry. Middle: C. Haven, S. Chapman, K. Robnett, R. Sandoval, M. Blagg, J. Decker, D. Thompson. Front: B. Wood, B. Larson, D. Morris, M. Wingfield, K. Walton, Mrs. Ogles.

This year a new club emerged at WHS. The computer club was organized to help people learn about the computer, and as a way of sharing ideas and information. This organization gave a great opportunity to allow students to explore and work with a tool of technology; the computer.

The gifted program took on a new name this year; Dimensions. This is a very appropriate name because the class served to add new dimensions to the education of each student involved. Many different courses of study were chosen by the students. A few examples were computers, meteorology, and model rocketry.

Though both of these organizations were relatively new to WHS, they made great accomplishments in 1983-84, and you can be sure that the best is yet to come.

1983-84 Student Council

The STUCO officers for 1983-84 were Mark Bell, V. Pres.; Chris Denney, Pres.; Eddie Hogan, Treas.; Wendy Husby, Rep.; Tonya Steiner, Sec.

Student Council at Weatherford High School pulled off a great year and was better than ever! STUCO is an organization designed to relate needs of the student body to faculty and administration.

One of the main goals of the STUCO was to rekindle school spirit. The student council officers attended O.A.S.C. basic workshop at Central State University during the summer. They received many worthwhile ideas from students all over the state and had a great time! They also attended a fall conference in November at Edmond High School. Members heard motivational speakers and gained new ideas on having an active student council.

The council sponsored a homecoming dance which turned out to be one of the greatest at W.H.S. They spent a lot of time and worked hard on the decorations to try to make Homecoming 1984 a special event. They also had dress-up days throughout the week.

Other events were a blood drive and an all school project. In the spring, the council sponsored twirp week with dress-up days such as pajama day, Michael Jackson day, and backwards day. The student council did their best to make 1984 an exciting and memorable year for all involved!

Dena Morrison and Sally Chapman use teamwork to put up the marquee, which was new to W.H.S.

The publicity committee worked hard on the "famous" wishing well for the homecoming dance!

Future Homemakers of America Sponsors are Mrs. Twanda Page and Mrs. Kathy Shadid. Teaching Home Ec. was a very rewarding experience. Students had to learn sewing, child care, family living, cooking, and much more. There were many changes this year in Home Ec. classes. Freshman and high school Home Ec. classes were moved together and Mrs. Shadid was just beginning her first year at Weatherford High School. But these changes didn't slow down FHA, the students kept on learning.

National Honor Society

The students chosen for N.H.S. are chosen by the teachers on a basis of scholarship, leadership, service and character. The students must have had a 3.5 grade point average for the two semesters before election. In 1984 the N.H.S. had an international dinner at which Michael Perssons told about his life in Sweden. At another meeting, Rosanna Montgomery gave the club the scoop on her stay in New Zealand. The N.H.S. project for the year was to help in the Special Olympics in the spring. National Honor Society proved to be exciting in 1984!

Learning by Doing

Learning to do
Doing to learn
Earning to live
Living to serve.

The F.F.A. organization had a very successful year. F.F.A. members attended many different livestock shows, some of them being the Custer County livestock show, Tulsa, Carnegie, and Weatherford Local and Area shows. In April, many of the students gave speeches at the Elk City P.I., which was held at the Weatherford High School. Along with these activities they had livestock and land judging teams. It's easy to see that being in F.F.A. isn't always easy. It takes much time and effort to be successful. F.F.A. helps to prepare the students for the future of farming.

FCA had a very meaningful year in 1983-84. The group was small, but every member always left the meeting inspired! This year they had prayer partners and gave the sports teams devotionals before each game. They also had an FCA bulletin board which was put up to give the students a lift and help them through their everyday life. Mr. Nuttal was the sponsor and was extremely dedicated. FCA was not just a club but a testimony, a witness, and a ministry!

After having the new members attend a workshop at S.W.O.S.U., the entire staff went to O.U. to improve our yearbook layout skills and remind us of the things long forgotten over the summer. With excitement and courage, the entire staff worked many long hours to prepare the 1984 yearbook. The Unsinkable

Molly sings to the stars.

Molly greets the Royalty.

The Unsinkable Molly Brown is a legendary story about a poor girl from Missouri who marries a Colorado miner and strikes it rich. They decide to move to Denver and try to fit into Denver society. When society snubs them, the Browns decide to tour Europe where they meet and are accepted by the crowned heads of state. Thinking that their newly-found royal friends will help them be accepted into Denver society, the Browns return to Denver and give a party to show off what they have acquired while in Europe. The party ends in a brawl and Mr. and Mrs. Brown go their separate ways. Molly going back to Europe and Johnny going home to the gold fields. After several years of parties, flings, and proposals of marriage, Molly finally decides to return to Colorado. She rode as a passenger on the Titanic. She becomes a heroine of the sea disaster. In the end, Molly and Johnny get back together and live happily ever after. The Unsinkable Molly Brown was an EXCELLENT play, with a cast of almost 50 people. Mr. Gerber and students worked hard and long and in the end were ahead!

Singing the right notes is exactly what the choir did! Their wonderful singing enabled them to accomplish high honors throughout the year. Among these high honors were the superior ratings received at Central State University, District Choir Contest at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, and State Choir Contest at Oklahoma University. They were also involved in the Tri-State Contest in Enid. These high high ratings allowed them to win the Sweepstakes, which is given to schools having perfect ratings throughout the school year.

Not only did the choir excell in honors, but also talent. Four members were chosen from the group to represent Weatherford in the All-State Choir. These members were Brian Decker, Sally Chapman, Chris Denney, and Diane Hertzler. Superior talents also were shown at the fall and spring concerts produced by the group and choir director, John Gerber. Since Gerber arrived on the scene four years ago, choir has been a non-stop activity for students. The many hours of work have paid off and the talent and determination behind the group gave WHS something to be proud of!

It received superior ratings at the Regional Marching Contest, District Concert Contest, and State Concert and Sight-reading and was the recipient of the Sweepstakes Award in 1983. During the fall of 1983, the band was first in class 3A competition at the SWOSU Homecoming Parade, won superior ratings at the Pre-Regional and Regional Marching Contest, and was selected as the Outstanding Class 3A Marching Band at the Clinton Marching Contest. The Band received superior ratings in Concert and in Sight-reading competition at the Elk City Band Festival. The Band also competed in District Concert Contest and received superior ratings and went on to State Concert Contest and received a I in Concert and a II in Sight-Reading. Spirited, dedicated, talented are only a few words to describe the 1983 football cheerleaders! They reached excellence in everything they did; starting with four superiors and a spirit stick at N.C.A. camp. We began the season with an away game at McCloud, which we easily won. And we ended it with a win against Elk City.

JUNIOR VARSITY: that means experience for the future. JV provides valuable playing time for the players who will be carrying the majority of the load in the next few years. This year's JV team not only got that experience but also came through with a successful season. The Eagles ended with a record of four wins over Frederick, Elk City, Anadarko, and Tuttle. They suffered only one loss in a tough game against Clinton. This outstanding record shows that this team is already well on the way to becoming the WHS EAGLES in the seasons to come.

Head Coach Tom Bergman praised his team saying "The kids played real well" and that they "showed a lot of intensity." The JV basketballers got a lot of "on the job experience." The JV team wasn't just for people who couldn't play varsity; it was a solid, very competitive group who strived for excellence. They played every game with intensity and worked hard to improve in each aspect of basketball.

It was basically a young team, consisting of sophomores Robbie Gage, Todd Gaunt, Mike Sawatzky, David Lacour, Michael Squires, Todd Perry, Corey White, and Mike Barnes. Juniors Scott Stinson and Darren Speck also were members of the team; along with upperclassmen Dean Rader and Stephen Griffin, who saw limited action.

The junior varsity proved to themselves and to everyone that, by hustle and desire they would be winners; no matter what the score.

. . . You Can!!!

The 1983-84 Eagles started out with a long road ahead of them. Their goal, to reach the state tournament, may have been a high one; but they knew they had the determination to get the job done!

One newcomer to Eagle basketball this year was Head Coach Dale Venable. Coach Venable may have been the "new kid in town," but he took firm control of the Eagles and guided them through the season. The veteran coach stressed sound fundamental basketball in areas such as defense and rebounding, while he tried to cut down on the Eagles' mental errors.

The Eagles played a very tough schedule; ten of their opponents were rated in the top ten of their respective classes. Due to this fact, their final record of nine wins and sixteen losses was very misleading. The Eagles fell just short of their pre-season goal, when they were stopped in the second round of the regional tournament.

During the season and after its end, the Eagles and all their fans knew they had a team they could be proud of!

THINK

"If you think you are beaten, you are
If you think you dare not, you don't.
If you like to win, but think you can't,
It's almost certain you won't

'If you think you'll lose, you're lost
For out of the world we find,
Success begins with a fellow's will —
It's all in the state of mind.

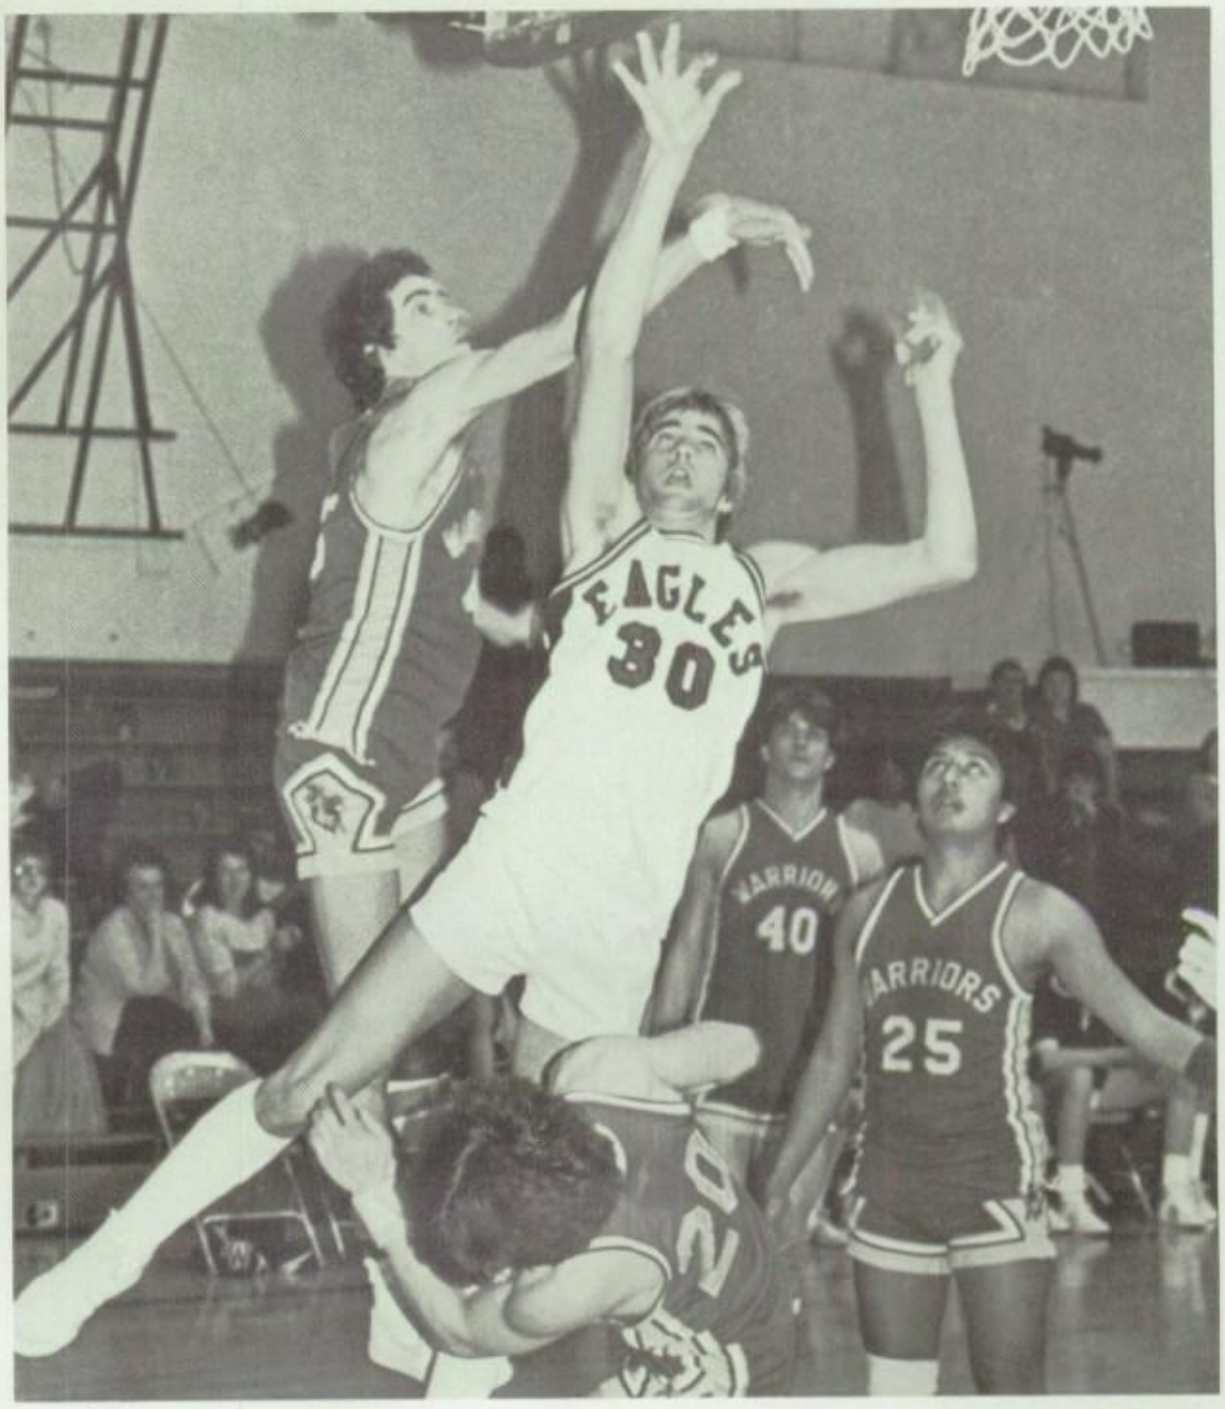
'If you think you are outclassed, you are,
You've got to think high to rise,
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.

'Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man,
But sooner or later the man who wins
Is the man who thinks he can."



Nobody seems to be able to stop Todd Lueck as he drives toward the goal.

"The Contenders"

This was the year! The year the Weatherford Lady Eagles showed the state they were alive. The season began the first week of school: the workouts, the conditioning, and the sore muscles. These girls worked hard to become the best. They opened the season against Elk City where they lost 42 to 44. This didn't stop the girls. They were determined! The Lady Eagles soon journeyed to the Woodward Tournament. They lost to the Guymon Tigerettes to lose being placed in consulation. This laid the determination for the Lindsay All-Star Tournament. The teams there were the best of the best. The girls played 2nd ranked Chickasha first round. Their pride and determination shined through as they won over Chickasha. The chance to take third was against the Guymon Tigarettes. They wouldn't be left behind this time, as they took third over Guymon. Soon enough the playoffs came. This year they would not be beat out at District. They weren't as they beat, or was it whipped, Watonga Eagles 71 to 52 for the right to go to Regionals. Though they were in the losers bracket; it made no difference in their attitudes. They had the attitudes of winners. These girls wanted to win! The Lady Eagles lost the last game in Regionals, thus ending their reign. They went farther than many thought they would. These girls knew that they could do it. They also knew they had to prove it. This season started a winning tradition, a tradition to be carried on. The closeness, and attitudes of this team made them winners in every way. The Weatherford Lady Eagles is the best definition of "true winners." They knew they could, and they did!

The Weatherford Junior Varsity girls' team is one to be admired. They played with the attitude of winners. They gave everything they had. The girls attended a tournament at Southwestern State where they competed against small school varsity teams. They may not have won the tournament, but they did play to win! These girls worked to achieve a common goal, to play to win and to play to learn. The experience they gained cannot be matched. The girls won against Cinton who had beaten them earlier. The team stepped out onto the floor with a look of determination to become better than they were before. Junior Varsity gave these girls the chance to be better in the years to come. It gave them experience to become the best that they can be. They were giving it all they had, and were the best that they could be!

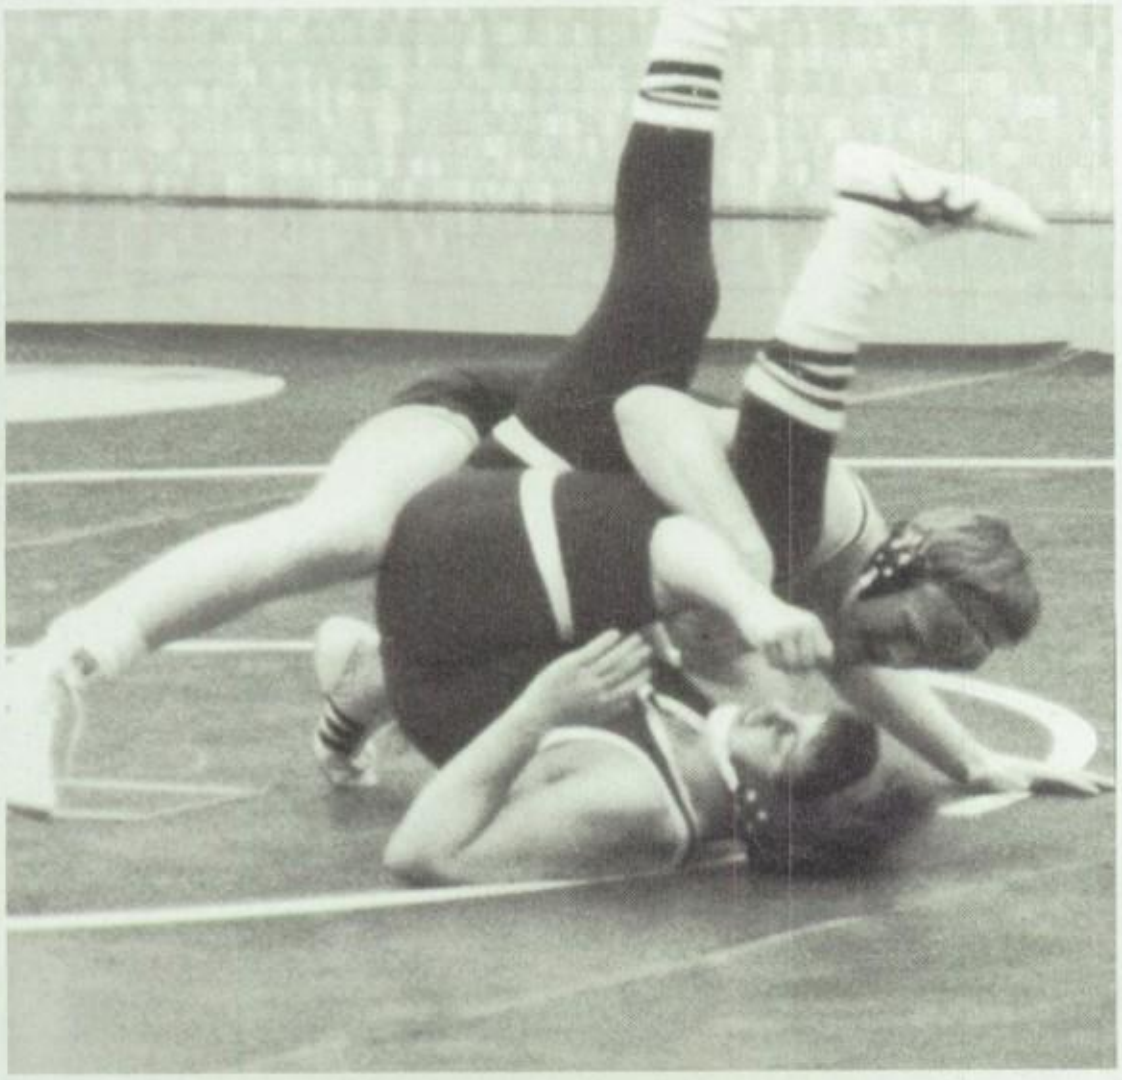
Awesome



Kenny Jones sticks his opponent to the mat and lets him look at the lights.

You've put in many long, exhausting hours. You've pushed yourself to make weight. Now it's finally time. Will all that hard work and extra time be enough?

As the team enters the gym, you know that soon all eyes will be on you. Already you can feel them — your friends, your girlfriend, your parents — they are all counting on you.

Fully engrossed, you watch the first match intently, and from the screams of the crowd you can tell that they are demanding action!

The clock ticks away and the loud buzz echoes in your ears. You get up to start your warmups, your stretches, and as you psych yourself out the crowd's yells become a faint murmur in your ears.

Finally, it's your turn. As You step onto the mat, pulse beating wildly, you can vaguely hear your name being called and the cheers of the fans. You stare deep into your opponents eyes, and sense that he wants the win as bad as you. The signal is given, and you know that it is time to go for it!

Wrestling may be an individual sport, but all the individual effort has to come together to form a team. This year's Eagle wrestlers were a perfect example. Each member of the team worked hard to be the best, not only for himself, but also for all of his teammates, coaches, and everybody at WHS!!

After losing four top members of last year's squad, this year's team came on strong and showed that they had what it took to be the best.

They are basically a young team, consisting of one senior, Aaron Weast, and one junior, Dean Rader. The rest of the team was made up of sophomores Herb White, David Wright, and freshman Brad Morrison.

This group had an outstanding season, qualifying five out of the six for the State Tournament. The highest finisher was Aaron Weast, who placed fourth.

Hard Work Pays Off

There was quite a different change for the girls tennis team this year. The team was dominated by upperclassmen: one Senior, five Juniors, one Sophomore, and two Freshmen. Experience had the upper hand. The girls took 1st place at the Clinton Tournament and at the Weatherford Tournament, 3rd place at the Kingfisher Tournament and at Regionals. Four players made it as far as State: Karen White, Sally Chapman, Deena Lellman, and Rhonda Harder. The team had a special motto given to them by their, Cherry Davenport: "We want tennis players, not dancers!" After working so hard for so long, things finally came together and made the season a winning one!

"I expect the team to start slow and come on strong as the season goes along." This was the pre-season opinion of Head Coach Tim Riggs. Little did he realize how successful the 1983-84 Eagles would prove to be.

They were basically a young team, consisting of eight sophomores, three juniors, and four seniors; but inexperience would not stand in their way on the road to success.

The Eagles rolled through the season, gaining momentum through their victories and learning from their mistakes. They placed third in the Binger Tournament, and also finished third in the Weatherford Tournament. They continued to work and improve throughout the regular season.

The District Tournament was held at Kingfisher. The Eagles showed their superiority as they easily defeated Watonga and Kingfisher, earning the title of District Champions.

The Eagles continued into the Regional Tournament at Hennesey. They failed to execute well and met defeat at the hands of Hennesey and Blackwell. Though their record may have only been 15-14, the year was definitely a successful one.

This 1983-84 baseball season proved that without a doubt, the Eagles were and will continue to be — A DOMINANT FORCE!!!

Cross Country Charges Into State

The Eagles come off the line in their quest for victory.

This year, a new sports program emerged at WHS. The Cross Country track team consisted of 11 boys who started at the bottom, and through hard work, continually climbed the ladder of success.

The Eagles competed in nine meets and finished strong in each one of them. One of their greatest achievements was a first place finish at Classen on Oct. 21. The team continued to improve throughout the season, and ended the year with an outstanding ninth place finish at the State finals.

Coach Tim Palesano said that he felt "finishing 9th in the state as a pilot program constituted more than a successful season." Coach Palesano also stated that he hoped the program will continue to build and more people will become interested in this valuable program.

And since this was only the beginning, you haven't seen anything yet!!!

The Weatherford Golf team, consisting of seven freshmen, did considerably well this season. They had a first place at Alva and a B-flight first place at Kingfisher. Also, they received two third-place finishes at Frederick and Weatherford. In duals, their record was 1-1-1. Ross Cargile finished third in regionals, going on to state; while the team came up with tenth place.

Head Coach Allen Hull strikes a serious pose.

State Champion Kim Wilson bursts out of the blocks.

One of the most successful sports programs at Weatherford High this year was track. Both the girls and boys teams completed excellent seasons by competing in the State Finals. The girls finished third, and the boys team finished fourth.

The "symbols" of the success of the Eagles' seasons are state champions Kim Wilson and John Dill. Kim won the 400, while John placed first in the long jump with a leap of 21′ 7″. Wilson, a junior, and Dill who is a senior both qualified for All-State honors.

The Eagles had many other outstanding athletes, who pulled their individual pride and effort together to make the team successful.

Eagle Coach Dennis Seifried summed up the year by pointing out the fact, "We were the only school to finish both teams in the top five at state."

Next year's teams will have a lot to live up to as they try to follow the success of this year's programs, but they will strive to improve and become better than before!

Cathy Hogan and Wendy Husby show determination to be the best.

We finally made it! We are Seniors! It is hard to believe. It seems as if it only took a few weeks. In junior high everything seemed so new. We were allowed school dances and were able to compete in sports. Guys seemed to be noticing that girls were not just another "buddy."

Then came the grand event!! We took our first big step into Weatherford High School as freshmen. Wandering through the halls, lost, didn't matter because we were lost in the "high school."

Our sophomore year was the year we were bigger than freshmen; but not quite juniors. This was the year that cars suddenly became a necessity; and mom finally said that we were old enough for "car dates." We moved right up to junior year! Now we get to play varsity sports, get our class rings, get to plan the prom and we finally get to go to one prepared for us.

Now we are putting on our cap and gown and getting ready to walk down the aisle to receive our diplomas. We are all saying good-bye to friends and memories and a great school, WHS.

They Are Off and Running

Senior, the word itself spells out what this class is all about.

Special. Each senior is special and unique in his own way. This uniqueness makes each senior a very valuable part of the school.

Excellence. Each senior has set a standard of excellence for his life after high school.

Naive. Each seniors in his own way it still naive about life and the world around him in one sense or another.

Intelligent. Each and every senior has to have some amount of intelligence to get as far as he has.

Doganized. Organization is an essential part of a senior's life, especially if his plans include attending college.

Rambunctious. Seniors, it is common knowledge, are very crazy and full of energy and enjoy doing anything out of the ordinary. Each senior tries to make every day better than the day before!!

Pondering thoughts, dreaming dreams, going to dances, devising schemes. Planning parties, taking tests. Always remember, never forget. School days and teenage nights. Getting cars and motorbikes. Watching T.V., drive-in shows. Where's the time gone? No one knows? Chasing boys and running wild; Your mom still treats you like a child. Home by ten, asleep by eleven. Up in the morning for school at seven. Graduation comes at last; We reminisce about the past. Our high school days have been the best. Always remember, never forget!

My Mom, My Date and Me

Mike: Mom, I really want to go to the dance with Tamara, but how can we get there?

Mom: Well, you can either walk or I'll be happy to take you and your little friend.

Mike: I'm sure, Mom! Why don't you just have Ed Morehead pick us up on the bus?

Mom: Now Mike, every other Freshman goes through the same thing. Plus I'd like to meet Tamara anyway.

Mike: Well, why don't we just make it into a family outing! I can't wait 'till I get my license, then I won't have to go through this hassle. I bet Michael Jackson never went through this.

Mom: Well, you're not Michael Jackson and you won't have your license for two years, so you don't have a choice unless you don't want to go to the dance.

Mike: Great! How embarrassing, I'll never be able to face her again. Well, I have no choice. Here we come "Big W," Me, my date . . . and my Mom!

Caught in the Act of . . .

One of the final activities was the Special Olympics, where John Christensen carried the torch.

As the year came to an end, everything wound down very quickly. All the clubs had end of the year parties. W.H.S. sports wound up many different successful seasons. Seniors found themselves winding down their remaining high school days. The happiest part of the end of the year was of course, FINALS! (ha, ha) As final goodbyes were said, lockers were cleaned, check-out sheets were signed, and summer plans were made; no one could disagree 1983-84 wound up to be BETTER THAN BEFORE!!!

MaryAnn Eldora, Carrie Shultz, and Curt Howard think that if they watch the calendar the days will wind down faster!

The 1983-84 football season ended disappointingly for the eighth grade Eaglets when they finished with a 2-6 record. However, the eighth graders showed tremendous improvement over the course of the year. Coach Tim Palesano stated: "Our victory was in the improvement category rather than the win/loss column." These 19 players worked hard this year and will continue to improve themselves next season.

The seventh grade football season ended with a record of 6 wins and 1 loss. Their only setback was in the first game of the year when they lost 24-16 to Tuttle. On the last play of the game with the ball on the one-foot line, the Eaglets fumbled, otherwise they might have gone undefeated.

The 7th grade Eaglets had 45 players out this year who had no previous football experience and yet were able to produce a winning season. Head Coach Eddie Bennett said, "These young men have shown a great deal of teamwork and spirit in preparing for each game this season." The coaches and school are proud of the effort put forth by this team throughout their entire winning season.

The Freshman basketball team started the year with three goals. One was to post a winning record, which they did by finishing with a 12-8 record. The second goal was to win a tournament championship. The Eagles accomplished this by bringing home a first place trophy from the Fairview tournament. They almost captured the championship at the Kingfisher tournament. The Eagles performed well in their first two games, but "lost their emotional intensity and failed to execute well" in the finals. The third goal was to win the conference championship. This was the only goal which the freshmen failed to accomplish, as they finished the season as conference runner-up.

Head coach Eddie Bennett, looking back over the year, said "This year's team showed a lot of integrity and desire to produce to their best abilities. Beginning basketball in the 7th grade, they built themselves into a competitive group that strived for excellence."

The seventh and eighth grade basketball teams, coached by Tim Palesano, may have suffered many defeats, but they only took them as minor setbacks on the road to improvement. These junior high basketballers were plagued by the same problems as any other young player, inexperience and stage fright. According to Coach Palesano, these young men "showed improvement since day one" and with each victory were instilled with more confidence.

All in all, this year's junior high basketball program was able to produce more than just winning seasons: it helped young athletes to mature, to belong to a team, and to grow in their own ability as they moved on up the ladder toward the high school ranks.

The Weatherford Junior High girl's basketball teams had an outstanding year. Their determination shined through.

The freshman team placed third at the Kingfisher Invitational Tournament. They showed what a team should be. Coach Terry Jensen stated, "They came a long way, developed a lot of self-confidence which will definitely help in years to come." The girls finished the season with an 8-12 record.

The 8th grade team may not have had an impressive record of 1-12, but their hard work was impressive. Coach Jensen stated it best, "I was proud of their effort, dedication, and determination."

The 7th graders record was 6-2. These young cagers placed 2nd at the Kingfisher Invitational Tournament. Their accomplishment of the year was to beat Eakly, who had beaten them earlier. These are the future winners of Weatherford, and winners they are!

Junior High Band

This year the Junior High School Band worked hard for perfection. Even though there are not many contests for this band to compete in, they worked extra hard to be an outstanding band. The Junior High Band competed in the Southwestern Oklahoma State Homecoming Parade and received superior ratings, as usual. This band has a lot of great musicians and all a person has to do is hear them to know that they have worked hard together and became the best they could be!

This year the eighth graders have the privilege of being on top before going on to high school. They've been busy writing career reports for English and participating in many activities such as pep assemblies, spelling bees, basketball, football, track, and dress-up days. Eighth grade can now say that they're ready and prepared for high school life.

These eighth graders can't wait to get to their next class.

Strange-looking people have been seen slinking through the halls of the junior high this year. They have been spotted at various times dressed in World War II army uniforms, doing Michael Jackson imitatins, and wearing psychadelic red paint in their hair, all for no apparent reason. Escapees from an asylum? Out-of-work actions from the Twilight Zone? No! They are seventh graders!

The senior high teachers try very hard to get the students ready to live on their own. They have so much to tell and so little time to do it. Many days when the kids can't sit still and things just don't go as planned, they get discouraged and upset. But it all seems worth it on graduation day when they see that student they didn't think would make it walk across the stage. Our high school teachers are some of the most important people in our lives!

To my very bestest friend!

Thanks for always listening to me gripping at you, and talking about things that you really didn't wanna hear at the time. You've been really great to me, helping me through the trials + ups + downs. I hope we can always be close friends and I'm not thinking so much you are a very personality to go right along with it. I love ya, Jen

P.S. I'll be home in 15 days!! Eagles :) cause I know I don't really have to say this cause I know you will but keep Jesus close to you always

Thanks a lot.
